Representative Klarides to Appear at Bradley School for Celebration of Reading

DERBY- State Representative Themis Klarides will participate in a celebration of reading at Bradley School, 155 David Humphreys Road, Derby on February 29, 2008, 9:30 a.m.

The activities are a part of “Connecticut Loves to Read Day,” which is dedicated to demonstrating to school children the importance of reading. The school has invited Representative Klarides, who will give a brief presentation to students on the significance of reading in their life, and then read a short story. The event coincides with the birthday of children’s author Dr. Seuss.
